

ABSTRACT

A closure particularly for a bottle for a good-quality liquor which renders the difference between an intact bottle and a wrongfully opened bottle unusually clear, 5 comprises a pourer body of predetermined axis fixed axially and angularly to the bottle, a cap having a skirt screwed onto the pourer body, a sleeve in at least two portions extending around the bottle, and a tubular appendix forming an extension of the skirt of the cap and extending around 10 the sleeve in order to keep the at least two portions juxtaposed.

(Figure 1)